Anchorites

Anchorites retire from worldly activity to spend their days in contemplation. They are the original “monks.” 1. Hermits: Withdrawing to desert places, living in essential simplicity, subsisting on manual labor; for example, the Augustinian Recollects (Discalced hermits); see St. Anthony first famous hermit. 2. Anchorites: Most radical, solitary, with only the essentials of food and cover.

Altar stone

This stone is in the altar and is technically as the altar itself, usually being only large enough to hold the chalice and paten; it is seated in a receptacle that leaves its top flush with the altar. Its upper surface bears five crosses, for Christ’s wounds, where anointing were made in its consecration; it contains sealed relics of two martyr saints, Formerly required; since Vatican II “commended,” with an emphasis on the importance of verifying authenticity

Mother of God

“Mother of God”, Mary’s oldest title, celebrated on the January 1st solemnity, was established in 431 by the Council of Ephesus which, in defending Mary’s divine maternity, was clarifying Christ’s true nature. Nestorius, the bishop of Constantinople, maintained that there were two distinct Persons in the incarnate Christ, one human and the other divine. True faith, on the other hand, believed in a “hypostatic” union of the two natures in the one Persons of Jesus and thus could say, as believers still do, that the Sons of God was born of Mary, that he was crucified, and that he died.

Ordinary Time’s Two Phases

Ordinary Time is the name given to the thirty-three or thirty-four weeks (depending upon Easter) in the course of the year apart from Advent/Christmas & Lent/Triduum/Easter. Ordinary Time is that part of the liturgical year when no particular moment or aspect of the Christian mystery is celebrated. Ordinary Time has two phases, a shorter one in winter between the season of Christmas and the season of Lent and a longer one through the Summer and Fall between the season of Easter and Advent. The Pre-Lenten phase begins the Monday after the Baptism of our Lord and includes what were formerly called the Sundays after Epiphany and the suppressed Sundays of Septua.
