Anchorites

Anchorites retire from worldly activity to spend their days in contemplation. They are the original “monks.” 1. Hermits: Withdrawing to desert places, living in essential simplicity, subsisting on manual labor; for example, the Augustinian Recollects (Discalced hermits); see St. Anthony first famous hermit. 2. Anchorites: Most radical, solitary, with only the essentials of food and cover.

Altar stone

This stone is in the altar and is technically as the altar itself, usually being only large enough to hold the chalice and paten; it is seated in a receptacle that leaves its top flush with the altar. Its upper surface bears five crosses, for Christ’s wounds, where anointing were made in its consecration; it contains sealed relics of two martyr saints, Formerly required; since Vatican II “commended,” with an emphasis on the importance of verifying authenticity

3. Blessed is the one who stays awake... (16:15)
4. Blessed are those who are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb... (19:9)
5. Blessed and holy are those who share in the first resurrection... (20:6)
6. Blessed is the one who keeps the words of the prophecy of this book (22:7)
7. Blessed are those who wash their robes, so that they will have the right to the tree of life and may enter the city by the gates... (22:14)

Ordinary Time’s Two Phases

Ordinary Time is the name given to the thirty-three or thirty-four weeks (depending upon Easter) in the course of the year apart from Advent/Christmas & Lent/Triduum/Easter. Ordinary Time is that part of the liturgical year when no particular moment or aspect of the Christian mystery is celebrated. Ordinary Time has two phases, a shorter one in winter between the season of Christmas and the season of Lent and a longer one through the Summer and Fall between the season of Easter and Advent. The Pre-Lenten phase begins the Monday after the Baptism of our Lord and includes what were formerly called the Sundays after Epiphany and the suppressed Sundays of Septua.
