The Joseph Legend of the Budding Staff of Lily

Zechariah the high priest told Mary that in a revelation he was instructed by an angel to bring together marriageable men and have each leave his staff in the temple overnight. The Lord's choice of husband for Mary would be revealed through a sign. In the morning, the staff of Joseph the carpenter was found to have blossomed, while those of other suitors' were barren.

The Mystical Rose

"I grew tall... like rosebushes in Jericho."

"I was exalted like the rose plant in Jericho." So says the book of Sirach (24:14). Rendered with five petals, this celebrated symbol signifies Mary's five Joys (the five joyful mysteries of the Rosary). Also, backed by a five-pointed star, it represents the five major Marian feasts (all pertaining to the divine motherhood): (1) Annunciation, (2) Maternity, (3) Visitation, (4) Nativity, (5) Purification.

Solemnity of Mary

The feast is a celebration of Mary's motherhood of Jesus. The English title "Mother of God" is a literal translation of the Latin title Mater Dei, which in turn is a looser rendering of the corresponding Greek title Θεοτόκος (Theotokos), literally meaning "Bearer of God" dogmatically adopted by the First Council of Ephesus (431) as an assertion of the divinity of Christ. The title is thus fundamentally Christological rather than Mariological.
