Reflection:

What is the spirit that leads me in the things I do? Is my heart a home for the spirit? Can the Holy Spirit invite me to find a quieter space? In the Bible, the desert is a space of revelation and intimacy with God.

To find God I need to put aside secondary things. God is found in emptiness, as well as in fullness. I can find it in the emptiness of sickness and old age, and in disappointment, failure, and loneliness. As Lent begins, I can promise God that I will be faithful to the space and time of peace that Sacred Space offers me.

Only a God can be so human as to resist temptation. The Gospel of Mark represents Jesus as divine but also deeply human. He enters the desert with only one purpose: to find God and to belong totally to him. Lord, come with me to my desert. Speak to my troubled heart. Reveal to me where addiction to power, possessions, and gratification stand in my way.

Only when I am free from all this, can I be the good news for others. Only then will I become part of the solution to the world's problems.

“All United one in the Love of God”
“Todos Unidos UNO en el Amor de Dios”
