Reflection:

Can you remember the time when you first met Jesus and bowed down to follow him? The text highlights the great moment for two disciples: at 4 in the afternoon. Then think about all the subsequent encounters you have had with Jesus, those times when you met him after a long wait; other times when you were deeply comforted by his presence and you didn't want that prayer time to end. Being faithful to a stable time for prayer is a great help in developing your relationship with the Lord. It is an act of generosity, and as Saint Paul says, God does not exceed himself in generosity. When your heart is dry and empty, all you can donate is time, but that's enough. It's good to be there, and a lot more happens than you know. The Lord is always working in your life. When you pray you can always ask God". Stay with me and then I will begin to shine as you do, so as to shine to be the light of others."
